

TERRIBLE VISITATION AT FRISCO

San Francisco Suffers Great Loss of Life and Damage From Earthquake

The Shock Seemed to Literally Sweep the Supports Out From Under the City

Fire Followed in its Wake, Water Mains Burst Dynamite Used to Destroy Handsome Buildings in Element's Path

Area Covers Fifty Blocks Right in the Heart of the Best Business Part of the City--Resident Portion is Not Touched.

THE LOSS OF LIFE IS TERRIBLE AND IS PLACED AT 2,000

San Francisco, April 18.—A second shock followed the first shock of the disastrous earthquake of this morning three hours later, and toppled over most of the buildings that were left standing from the first shock.

Fire Chief Sullivan and Patrolman Frenner were killed beneath the ruins.

Thieves are already at work ghoulishly.

Berkely, a fine suburb just across the bay suffered a severe shock. It is the residence district of a number of the wealthiest millionaires.

The whole city is a mass of fire and flames, and its total destruction seems inevitable, and nothing but Providence can save it.

The whole district on Market street, between Third and Tenth is in flames. Preparations are now being made to blow up a number of fine structures to try to stop the spread of the fire, and among these are the Palace Hotel, one of the finest in the world, and the office of the San Francisco Call.

The loss of life is now put at 2,000 but there is no telling where it will run when all accounts are in.

The disaster is growing worse instead of better, as the developments occur.

Seven hundred bodies have already been brought out of the ruins. The street car system is tied up, the entire machinery and power houses are ruined.

The loss to property is placed at thirty million dollars but may go way above this.

The shipping is being rushed to the bay to avoid the fire, and all efforts to save property are being made.

The excitement and confusion is intense, and the people are in a great measure panic stricken.

Not a building in the city has escaped damage, which shows the severity of the shock.

Explosion after explosion caused by the dynamite used in razing the buildings in the path of the fire in a feeble effort to placate the flames add to the horrors of a horrible scene already beyond description.

The night is waited with intense expectation, the water supply is gone, the electric supply power house wrecked, the gas company plant ruined, and robbery rampant.

The government has been appealed to and soldiers have been rushed from the Presidio to take charge of affairs, and the probabilities are that martial law will be declared.

Offers of assistance pour in from the country at large, and the people are alive to the pressing needs for assistance.

THREE SHOCKS FELT.

There were three shocks of the earthquake, the first one being of two minutes' duration.

Valencia street sank 10 feet in places with great damage near the China Basin. It is thought scores perished in the ruins.

ENTIRE CITY DOOMED.

San Francisco, April 18.—The latest reports add to the horrors and damages of the situation.

The debris of the wrecks are all ignited and the city is doomed to destruction. The fire engines were wrecked in the wreck of the fire stations and the town is at flames' mercies.

The manufactories which withstood the shocks, fell easy victims to the flames.

The employees of the factories lived in cottages which were tossed about like cards, and the falling timbers crushed the occupants while they lay sleeping.

The dead is estimated above 2,000, most of the bodies recovered were taken from the tenement districts.

Over 300 bodies now lie in the Mechanics' pavilion.

The Call building is now a mass of flames and doomed.

The Hearst building is in great danger.

The fire is now working west from Sansome street toward corner Market and Montgomery.

Destruction of Palace hotel inevitable.

From the Examiner building on Third street, no building escaped the greedy flames.

THE LATEST.

In Mission street hundreds of dead were found in the ruins of cheap lodging houses. Every man able to work is being forced by police to aid the dying and rescue the injured plucked under debris.

Every minute reports received which raise the estimate dead. The reports are so enormous, officials shudder. Entire dome of the city hall collapsed at 9:30 with terrific crash, doing great damage to the walls and also cracked and damaged them irreparably.

The roof of the Majestic theatre fell in, ruining theatre.

Studebaker block mass of ruins. Damage in Mission district appalling and widespread.

Four entire blocks on Market St. are now burning fiercely, spreading up and down street. Hunter house, First Methodist church, block south of Palace Hotel, is burning and will be a total loss. Ground below Kearny street sank about four feet. In Valencia street, ground sank nearly 10 feet in places. Similar conditions exist in Chinese sections.

Damage in Berkeley, Oakland and other places in the vicinity of San Francisco was very severe, but it is not thought many lives were lost on that side of the bay. The supply of dynamite is exhausted and the mayor telephoned Oakland for more explosives. If the flames cannot be stayed at once the entire city may be destroyed.

General Funston, commanding the department of the Pacific, has ordered out the entire forces at the Presidio, Fort Mason, to guard the property and preserve order. Howard street and Mission, above Third, is blazing furiously. Ryallto, one of the finest steel structures in the city, burned. The very best section of the business district is now threatened.

Firemen are powerless. The whole territory, four blocks on Sansome, Front, Pine, Sacramento streets are gutted.

The Postal Telegraph building is deserted in fear of a collapse and all operators have gone to Oakland to resume work there.

The Sun expects later news than what is printed now that wires are in some order, and if other intelligence is received it will be bulletined at the office. All friends are invited to call and read whatever is received.

Reject the Proposition.

Charleston, W. Va., April 18.—In accordance with instruction received from headquarters of the United Mine Workers, representatives of the miners' scale committee last night rejected the proposition of the operators of Kanawha valley to pay three per cent. advance on the present scale instead of 5.55 as asked by the miners.

St. Petersburg, April 18.—The Associated Press is now in a position to confirm the report that Witte has definitely got the upper hand of Minister of Interior Durnova. The downfall of the latter is only a few days or weeks at most, as Emperor Nicholas has promised to dismiss him before the national parliament meets.

THE NEWS OF THE DISASTER HERE

The Sun Scores a Beat With Its News at Noon.

The Office Eagerly Besieged With Messages All Day From Interested Folk.

MANY PADUCAHANS OUT THERE.

The Sun posted the first information given the public of the great disaster at San Francisco. This was done on bulletin boards both in front of this office and also in front of the Citizens Savings bank and McPherson's. The information was read by many and soon the horrifying fact had well spread over the city. Soon the phones at the office were constantly ringing and inquiries for further facts came from all parts of the city and even from some outside points. At 12:30 The Sun further excelled by putting an extra upon the streets in which a rather full account of the horror was printed all the conditions, particularly the absence of telegraphic lines, being taken into consideration. This extra was grabbed up by the excited public like hot cakes by a gang of tramps, and many compliments were paid the paper because of this gratuitous stroke of enterprise. Though it was thought the people had well heard of the disaster the extra was the first intimation many had of its occurrence.

There are a great number of Paducah people in San Francisco, but as the damage seems to have been most in the business districts it is not thought any of them suffered an accident. Secretary Coons, of the Commercial club, Miss Mix, of the Commercial club, and Dr. Blythe have relatives out there. J. B. Alvey and family are residing there. Mr. B. H. Scott and family have just returned from a visit to California and were in Frisco a few days ago.

THE SAN FRANCISCO LOSS TOTAL.

Insurance Policies Don't Generally If Ever Cover Such Disasters.

The total loss of the disaster in San Francisco is estimated at $30,000,000. This will prove almost if not a total loss, as insurance is not paid on such disasters, or fire resultant, unless insurance policies so state. The Baltimore fire loss was $40,000,000, but the people recovered on this loss largely through their insurance.

Illinois Prohibitionists Meet.

Springfield, Ill., April 18.—The prohibitionists of Illinois opened their state convention today with a thousand delegates present. The morning was devoted to county legislative conferences. A ticket will be nominated by secret ballot under the Australian system.

Declines the Appointment.

Washington, April 18.—Edmund J. James, president of the University of Illinois, has declined on account of ill health the appointment as delegate to the Pan-American conference at Rio Janeiro in July.

Racing Association Organized.

Frankfort, April 18.—The state racing commission was organized today with Jack Chinn as chairman and A. B. Rouse, of Covington, as secretary, at $100 per month. Lexington was made the headquarters.

The Stricken City Suffers Another Terrible Shock Three Hours Later Today

The Whole City is a Mass of Flames and Seemingly Doomed to Complete Destruction Damage to Suburb Near Town

Not a Building in the City Escaped the Damage--Seven Hundred Bodies Have Been Recovered So Far--Rescuers Bravely Working.

PROPERTY DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED AT OVER $30,000,000

The First Report.

St. Louis April 18.—A terrific earthquake which seemed literally to sweep the supports from beneath city, cracking walls and sending weaker buildings toppling to the streets, burying their occupants and in burning debris rocked San Francisco at 5:13 o'clock this morning. Perhaps thousands of people are believed to be dead as a result of the earthquake. From the ruins of the fallen buildings rescuing parties are bringing out the dead and wounded.

The water supply was cut off and the city left without lights. Through the darkened streets the survivors groped their way over masses of debris answering the calls for aid as they could. The catastrophe came without warning and the survivors in the stricken districts, dazed with horror could do little effective rescue work. All wires went down with the first shock and the city was left without means to appeal for help.

The Post Dispatch received the following bulletin from the night chief of the Post at San Francisco shortly after the earthquake: "We had terrible earthquake at 5:13. There is an immense amount of damage done in the city. Office about wrecked, our power is gone. None of us are hurt but they are carting the dead out of fallen buildings. Fire is over the town and no water. I am going to get out of the office as we have an earthquake shock every few minutes. All telegraphic communication with San Francisco ceased at 6 a. m."

Another Report.

San Francisco, April 18.—The worst earthquake in the history of the Pacific coast occurred this morning. Many buildings in the business district were wrecked. A fire followed the shock and as water mains were burst it is impossible to get water. The firemen are helpless. Many were killed and injured. An early estimate of the dead placed the number as high as 1,100. The wires are down in every direction and it is impossible to send any particulars at present. The fire broke out in the wholesale houses near the water front. In other localities the shock was felt as far south as Santa Barbara. There were three shocks, first and second light and the third very severe. Survivors who are not heroically caring for the injured are fleeing for their lives. The city is in a state of indescribable panic and confusion. Scores of dead bodies are being taken from the buildings.

The California state building and the handsome Palace hotel have been blown up to try to stay the fire's sweep.

LATER—The loss of life is now placed at over 2 000.

Felt at Washington.

Washington, April 18.—The war department was in communication with San Francisco about two minutes this morning shortly after the earthquake. The San Francisco operator stated the destruction was great. He reported more than one thousand persons killed. The dead and injured are being taken out of the wrecked buildings. The water supply is cut off and there is danger of a general conflagration.

Washington, April 18.—The weather bureau reports a number of slight earthquakes about Washington this morning.

Report Via Ashford, Ariz.

Ashford, Ariz., April 18.—Reports of the earthquake shock San Francisco received here say the first rumble was heard at 5:10 o'clock. The buildings toppled and fell in every direction. The police patrol is carting off the bodies taken from the wrecked buildings.

LATER INFORMATION.

The Path of the 'Quake.

San Francisco, April 18.—The area covered by the earthquake is about 50 blocks in which almost all of the buildings are totally destroyed. The greatest damage is east on South Market street to the Bay. This area covers the Battery, Front, Drummond and Montgomery streets.

The buildings on the following streets are destroyed:

First, Fremont, Beal, Main, Spear, Stuart, East and South.

This section of the city is largely devoted to manufactories, and the loss will be tremendous.

The Hotels.

The Palace hotel which cost $3,250,000, was blown up to try to stop the flames. This is one of the finest hotels in the world. The Lick house, is also wrecked, and the other hotels are badly damaged.

Fires Everywhere.

The fires are raging everywhere, and the city looks as if it is at the mercy of the flames. The area covered by the loss will, anyway consume the heart of the very best part of the city.

The City Hall.

The city hall was one of the handsomest buildings in the west and cost six million dollars.

No Electric Power or Gas.

The city electric lighting plant went down in the wreck, and the gas mains are all broken. The city will be in darkness until relief is given some way.

No Water.

The damage to the water mains cripples the water supply for drinking purposes, and all uses as a fire fighter for it have been abandoned.

Telegraph Service.

The Postal, Western Union and Pacific States Telephone company plants are in the wreck and communication is crippled. The companies above, all sent out notices that messages are necessarily delayed.

The Sun's Obligation.

The Sun is indebted to the Paducah Commission company for a good deal of its news from San Francisco today, and acknowledges the debt. With its wires direct to New York, Chicago and St. Louis this company has excellent facilities for getting the wire news. This service, supplementing The Scripps-McRay telegraph service gave The Sun a good account of the disaster.

Felt Here.

There are citizens who contend that they felt the shock of the earthquake this morning which so wrecked San Francisco. They say the shock was very light and they think the one they felt was the hardest of the several mentioned in the dispatches.

The Wrath of God.

To the religious minds, the terrible news from San Francisco will have great significance. For months the reports of the evil conditions in the city have occupied the attention of the press and ministry, and it has been said there was more crime and corruption going on in the city than in any in the country.

A Double Tragedy.

Duluth, Minn., April 18.—A tragedy in which the result was the murder of two brothers by each other shocked Hibbin Sunday night near the Morris Mine location. Steve Buckovitch shot and killed his brother Mareo after the latter had inflicted what is almost certain to be a mortal knife wound on him. Steve is in hospital but is not expected to

LOOPS LOOP ON ROLLER SKATES

Minnesota Man Accomplishes Difficult and Perilous Feat.

Duluth, Minn., April 18.—After two years of hard work, George Proff, of this city, has succeeded in looping the loop on roller skates.
Proff has been seriously hurt on several occasions, but has persisted until success has crowned his efforts.
He also leaps a twenty-three-foot gap after coming down an eighty-foot incline. He uses skates with ten-inch wheels and weighing twenty-seven pounds.

A Lady Operator.

Miss Grace Williams, one of the few women telegraph operators employed on the I. C. Southern division, is in Paducah today. She came to receive her check and did some shopping.

Miss Williams is stationed at Krebs Station, between Paducah and Mayfield. She is a hard worker and a regularly enrolled member of the Order of Railway Telegraphers.

BERT HAAS HAS COME TO TOWN

Indians Here Now and the Team is Working Hard.

Fans Anxious About Lloyd's Assignments—All Men Too Good to Turn Loose.

AND THE BIG LEAGUE GAMES

"Chief" Lloyd is in a quandary.
Bert Haas is here and so is Jimmie Connors, to work for first sack. There is a difference of opinion relative to who will get the sack, but it is "cinched" among the fans that both men will be retained.

Jimmie Connors is a catcher, and Paducah needs a big tail man for emergencies. Wigan has been released and it has been suggested that Connors be placed in right garden to catch in emergencies. The team is working out fast now and there is ginger everywhere in the Indians.

The team as it now stands is Chenault, catcher; Fred Miller, Brahic,
South, Ames and Wilgus, pitchers;
Haas and Connors, first base; Gilligan, second base; Wetzel and Gregory, third base; Perry, shortstop;
McClain, left field; Taylor, center field; M. Miller, left field.

In the opening game with Evansville Friday the team will line up with Chenault behind the bat and Haas on first base. Wetzel will play third and McClain, Taylor and M.
Miller will take to the outfield. The pitcher is yet to be decided.

DIAMOND GOSSIP.

Big "Rube" Chenault has a wing
as good as was ever seen in the Kitty. He has a quicker and surer delivery than Land. Chenault gets the ball away in the wink of an eye. His work is better in some respects than Land's.

M. Miller should be kept at all hazards. He is a heady, fast fielder, and his stick work is good.

So far not an Indian who will be retained on team this season shows up weak with the stick.

Lloyd has released Frazier, Wiggam and Winters.

Bert Haas is but 22 years old. He is a giant like Fred Miller, the big southpaw twirler.

Chenault, Fred Miller and Bert
Haas are the Big Men of the team this season.

Cairo's Hard Luck Begins.

Capt. Angelo Marre, of the Cairo baseball team, has jumped the game, and the Mud Wallowers are "up against it." They put great reliance in Marre's work. Probably the rotten bunch that Cairo is said to have caused him to become disgusted.

It is said that Manager McCarty, of the Cairo team, is "ready to quit."
He has had a hard time with his men. McCarty seems to have gotten hold of a very bad bunch of ball players.

CHILD'S CLOSE ESCAPE

BROOKPORT GIRL NARROWLY ESCAPES BEING ROASTED ALIVE.

Caught in Burning House Tuesday Morning—Mill and Residence
Were Destroyed.

Mary Council, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. John Council, a merchant of Brookport, Ill., came near being suffocated in a fire which destroyed her father's dwelling there.

About 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning fire was discovered in the Council dwelling, a one-story frame, on Second street, Brookport, and the flames had spread beyond control.

The family had a narrow escape in getting out, and on reaching open air it was discovered the ten-year-old daughter was missing. The roof was ready to fall in and the father frantically rushed in to find his daughter.
He discovered the child crouched in the far corner of a room verging on suffocation. She was so badly frightened at the fire that she was powerless to move, and when taken from the house narrowly escaped the falling roof.

The fire spread to the Cagle mill property occupied by D. W. English & Co., merchants. The mill and the Council residence were destroyed and the Cagle residence, next door, badly damaged. The loss will amount to several hundred dollars, with no insurance.

Enterprise Changes Hands.

Mound City, Ill., April 18.—The Meyers furniture factory at this place has been sold. The new owners are parties from Anna, Ill., who will enlarge and continue the plant. The transfer price for the entire property, including all buildings, machinery, grounds, etc., was $70,000.
C. L. Meyers, the owner, will remove the stove plant on the grounds and continue that business alone.

severely particularly under the shoulder blades, despite the use of medicine. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Alvey & List's

Women as Sanitary Inspectors.

The effort to oust women from the bureau of sanitary inspectors in Chicago has done much to strengthen them in this branch of public service.
The committee of the city council on whom the decision rested has voted to retain them, and Chicago newspapers have been publishing broadcast, in reply to the charge that women were inefficient as inspectors, testimony of the New York tennement house commission and other authorities with regard to women sanitary inspectors. These are some of the statements elicited from one of the New York commissioners and the editorial conclusion of one of the great Chicago dailies.

1. Women inspectors are not necessarily inefficient. In fact, on the whole, they are more efficient than the men.

2. The question of efficiency is entirely dependent upon the standards of appointment and the administration of the department.

3. The women inspectors accomplish a little less work than the men, but the quality is better.

4. There is some work that women can do better than men, as the women are more apt to get the confidence of tenants in tenement houses.

The official report of the New York commission for 1903 contains a lengthy discussion of the value of the work done by, and open to women inspectors, and the conclusion reached is decidedly favorable to them. The inference is obvious. Intelligent direction can obtain good service from the right sort of women inspectors.

WORTHLESS CHECK PASSER.

He is Apparently Making a Sweep of the City.

The police are experiencing a great deal of trouble from the operations of a forger who is passing worthless checks.

Mr. Wes Orr reported the passing of a worthless check on him, and the Kirby 10 cent store was also caught. Several other grocers and merchants have reported checks passed on them which developed to be worthless. The police are unable to get a good description of the person operating the business. From what can be learned it is more than one person, or maybe the same person in disguise. The police will attempt to effect arrest, and are keeping a close lookout for the forger.

The checks are all for small amounts, not large enough to justify an investigation before acceptance.

MAY BE SENATOR

PRESIDENT HAS DECLARED THIS HIS LATEST AMBITION.

Will Aspire to Place to Be Vacated By Senator Platt—Retires in Time.

New York, April 18.—President Roosevelt has made known to his close friends that he is ambitious to represent New York state in the senate at the close of his present term. The information is being confidentially imparted to the Republican leaders in this state.

Mr. Roosevelt wishes it understood that his determination to not accept a second term in the White House remains as before, but he believes that his public life is by no means at an end, and that he can be of great service in the senate. Neither Mr. Platt nor Mr. Depew will be a candidate again for the senate, according to a statement recently made by Platt, who regretfully admitted to a friend that "we could not be re-elected if we wanted to be, I fear."

Both men are more than 70, and Platt's term will expire on the very day that Mr. Roosevelt ceases to be president, on March 4, 1909. Depew's term runs two years longer. If he were elected to succeed Platt, Mr. Roosevelt could be sworn in as senator the same day that his successor as president took the oath of office.

No expression has yet been made by Republican leaders here as to the manner in which the president's ambition will be received, but it is thought it will have an effect on the immediate future in New York politics. A Higgins-Odell truce on Roosevelt platform may not be impossible.

A Dandy for Burns.

Dr. Bergin Pana, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommend it to my friends, as I am confident there is no better made. It is a dandy for burns." Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns, bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Alvey & List.

NEW ODD FELLOWS' LODGE.

Will Be Installed Tonight At The Fraternity Building.

The new lodge of I. O. O. F. organized in Mechanicsburg, will tonight be installed, the ceremonies being held at the Fraternity building. Following the installation a banquet will be served. The members of the new lodge are Messrs. Joe Wallace, Barnes Sillis, D. Despane, N. M. Reeder, D. Sillis, C. G. Warner, T. G. Miller, G. A. Roberts, W. T. Goodman, H. L. Harrison, Chas. Smith, J. C. Gilbert, J. S. Troutman, C. F. Yates, Henry Magee, A. Butler, W. S. Sullivan, H. J. Swafford, D. B. Sillis, H. P. Barksdale, Silas E. Peak, R. S. Barnett, D. O. Barker, C. M. Black, W. L. Rutherford, W. N. Simmons, T. N. Edwards, R. J. Wilson, C. N. Smith, John Leish, E. Vasser, Chris Kolb, C. M. Clark, Arthur Warren, J. S. Warren, R. Stuart, M. F. Finie, B. B. Hook, H. Creek, Oscar Roberts, M. J. Michelson, J. W. Bottoms, Walter Davis, Johnnie Wade.

WANTS POSTPONEMENT.

Lack of Cars May Hinder Many From Attending I. O. O. F. Celebration.

President A. Joyner, of Carbonade, of the interstate I. O. O. F. association, was in Paducah yesterday to lay the matter of postponing the annual celebration from April 26th. The I. O. O. F. will be unable to furnish sufficient cars or special trains on account of the New Orleans Confederate reunion on the 26th and officials of the road suggested a postponement of the meeting until May 3rd. The matter will be taken up tonight for discussion. Illinois will be strongly represented and it is feared that the biggest portion will remain away if special trains are not run.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup.

Immediately relieves hoarse croupy cough; oppressed, rattling respiration and difficult breathing. Henry C. Stearns, druggist, Shullsburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1902: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Alvey & List."

CALLED MEETING.

Councilman Board Meets to Pass Ordinance and Resolutions.

The councilmanic board met in called session last night and gave second passage to one ordinance and two resolutions in order that the measures become effective as soon as possible.

All members were present except Councilman Dipple, who was taken ill at Monday's meeting and was not able to attend last night.

Alderman Oscar Starks, mayor pro tem, read his call, for the purpose of giving second passage to the ordinance authorizing a sale of a franchise to operate a system of street cars on certain streets of the city; second passage to the resolutions relative to the telephone litigation and appointment of a cow police.

The street car franchise was taken up first and given second passage. The resolution providing for the reimbursement of the East Tennessee Telephone with $3,000 collected in a compromise measure several years ago, was next given second passage, and the meeting was adjourned with the second passage, of the resolution appointing L. Rice "cow police."

CONTRACT LET.

Contractor Ingram Will Build Addition to Fire Station No. 2.

The joint fire committee met last night and awarded a contract to Mr. George Ingram to build an addition to fire station No. 2, at Fourth and Elizabeth streets.

The addition will be two stories high built to the rear of the station house for the purpose of providing a place for the fire engine and horses to be installed for additional protection to the mill district.

The contract price was $1,250. Other bidders were Messrs. Davis, Cole and Neiman, and some of the figures were as high as $1,400. Work will begin at once.

Cures Coughs and Colds.

Mrs. C. Peterson, 625 Lake St., Topeka, Kans., says: "Of all cough remedies Ballard's Horehound Syrup is my favorite; it has done and will do all that is claimed for it—to speedily cure all coughs and colds—and it is so sweet and pleasant to the taste." Sold by Alvey & List.

NINE KILLED IN EASTER RIOT.

Railway Gang in Fierce Battle in Arkansas Slaughter Many.

Helena, Ark., April 18.—Nine men have been killed in a riot, which still is in progress in the southern part of this (Phillips) county. The fighting has been under way since early Sunday. The scene of the trouble is along the line of the Memphis, Helena and Louisiana railroad, near a small station called Gurley, not far from the Desha county line.

On Saturday a number of Greeks, Roumanians, Poles and Slavs came to this place and laid in a large lot of whisky and beer to celebrate Easter. Yesterday about 50 of them became drunk and engaged in a furious quarrel. They used knives, pistols, guns and axes on one another. The first man killed was the foreman of the gang, and before there was a cessation six men were killed outright and a large number seriously wounded. The trouble was renewed this morning and three others were killed. Troops have been ordered to the scene.

Poisoned With Headache Medicine.

Mrs. Kate Cockrell, of 1014 Jackson street, wife of the well known I. C. car repairer, took an overdose of headache medicine last night and for a while was in a serious condition. The medicine contained aconite, morphine, arsenic, strychnine and quinine, and it is said she took six tablets at once. Drs. Vernon Blythe and H. P. Sights attended her. She is resting well today and will recover.

Arbitration Proposition Not Popular.

Indianapolis, April 17.—There is little likelihood the Winder proposition to arbitrate the situation in the bituminous field will be accepted by the miners. The question is looked upon as the most important one to come before the international executive board this week, but may not be given consideration today.

Railroad Settles Claim.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 18.—Acting under a decision of the United States supreme court sustaining the ad valorem railroad tax law of Michigan, the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad has sent a check to the state treasurer for $528,000 covering the railroad's back taxes and penalties.

VICTIM OF ARIZONA JOKE.

A Kentucky Girl Thus Made to Figure in Kidnapping.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 18.—Miss Maud Cansler, daughter of Judge Polk Cansler, of this city, who is now visiting in Morenci, Ariz., has been accorded considerable notoriety as the result of a sham kidnapping which took place at a masked ball in which she participated. Miss Cansler went costumed as Sis Hopkins, and when the merriment was at its height three young men masked as bandits, swooped down on the assemblage and amid whoops and yells and popping of pistols, carried off the pseudo Sis Hopkins in true Western style. Of course this was only a feature of the merry-making, but to those not in the secret it was very realistic.

An interesting newspaper correspondent was one of the maskers and immediately after the supposed kidnapping he rushed to a telegraph office and sent broadcast a highly colored and sensational account of how the bandits surprised the dancers at the height of their revelry and carried off one of the most popular young ladies. He further added to the story that a large posse gave chase to the kidnapers and pushed them so closely that in order to make their escape they dropped the young lady on the road and made their way as best they could to their mountain fastnesses.

Finally Properly Married.

Fulton, Ky., April 18.—L. H. Hopkins and Miss L. N. Norman, of near Water Valley, Ky., were married here Thursday by Esq. J. T. Futrell.

This was the young couple who came to the squirrel on Sunday, April 8th, to be married. Owing to an all round mistake on the part of those concerned the young people were not properly married on that occasion and so Thursday they came in to try it over again.

The knot was tied hard and fast this last time and Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins went their way rejoicing.

Coming to The Kentucky.

One of the latest and best rural comedy successes will be seen at The Kentucky for Saturday matinee and night, "The Hoosier Girl." There is not only a vast quantity of fun in this play but its atmosphere is of a more refined and exquisite quality than is usual in plays of its class.

MISDESCRIBE SHIPMENTS.

Packers Have for Years in That Way Cheated Railroads.

Chicago, April 18.—The Tribune says: Railroad officials openly charge that the big packing corporations for years have been cheating the railroads by misstating the character of the goods they were shipping and by shipping heavier packages than the bills of lading called for.

They assert that other big shippers in the East also are doing things that have helped to diminish the revenues which the railroads ought to have received.

It has been estimated by the railroads that the packers alone beat the Eastern roads out of $150,000 a year. What they owe all the railroads out of Chicago is problematical, but it is estimated at $5,000,000. The railway men say that they have known all these things for years, and in a way have remonstrated with the packers and other companies which were cheating, but within the last few weeks they have made a determined effort to bring about a great reform and they intimate strongly that unless the shippers make restitution there will be a grand expose before the interstate commerce commission.

THE LONGFELLOW BUILDING.

The School Board Agrees to Sell the Property.

A meeting of the school committee with Col. R. G. Caldwell, the real estate dealer, was held last night for the purpose of arranging a price on the Longfellow school property at Fifth and Kentucky avenue.

Col. R. G. Caldwell offered to take the property on an option at a certain price or agreed to sell it on commission. The price agreed on was $22,500, the real estate agent to get $500 as a commission for his part of the work if the sale is effected.

The school board will meet tonight to act on the committee's recommendation to close the deal. Propositions from other real estate dealers will be entertained.

Col. R. G. Caldwell states that he has a purchaser for the property and thinks that he will be able to dispose of the property at $22,500.

RATE REDUCTION

CHIEF WOOD ASSURED A CUT WILL COME THIS SUMMER.

Says Paducah Has One Coming and He Will See That It Is Given Insurers.

Fire Chief James Wood says that Paducah will get a reduction in fire insurance rates this summer. He says that Paducah has "got one coming," and that the insurance men can not get out of it this year.

"I know we will get the reduction; I have personally looked into the matter and know we deserve it," he declared this morning. "When the state and national board of underwriters demanded of the city to increase its fire department, it was promised that a reduction in rates would result as soon as the attitude of the city was clearly seen; as soon as the city had demonstrated it to the underwriters. This has been done, and it is now two years since the improvement was made. We have a reduction coming, and the national board will have a man here June 1st, when State Inspector Wm. Glisdorf comes, to look over the town and recommend a reduction."

Inspector Glisdorf will be in Mayfield next month and will come to Paducah June 1st. By that time Local Inspector Frank O. Evertz will be here and will have taken hold of the matter of wiring the houses anew, and with the improvements already made to the departments and wiring generally, a reduction amounting to a great deal cannot be refused so thinks the big chief.

Cairo Election.

Cairo, Ill., April 18.—Seven members of the city council were elected yesterday. Though many retiring members of the old board were aspirants for re-election only two were successful. The members elected are James Meahan, Dr. J. H. Davis, E. A. Burke, Wm. J. Lawler, Frank J. Gorman, John Snyder and Frank Thomas. The board is regarded as a good one.

Daily Thought.

"A joy unshared is always short-lived."

It is announced from Washington that Mr. Roosevelt will not be in the presidential contest of 1908, as he refuses to stand for re-election, but that in 1912 the people will again place him in the executive chair. Nineteen hundred and eight is too far off to settle the fact that Mr. Roosevelt will not be in the race in spite of his statements just now and 1912—well that is still another proposition. Wise men change their minds often even when they don't wish to do so, and Mr. Roosevelt will not be an exception to the rule, if he finds his duty to the people of this country calls for a sacrifice when the time comes to make it. The predictors can therefore, save their breath and reputations by remaining mum on the presidential question at least.

President Roosevelt in wielding the "big stick" in vetoing many objectionable bills passed by congress never fails to give good reasons for the views he holds. He is not only free spoken but most wise in what he has to say on all questions, and he always wins the admiration of even those holding to contrary views. This is because of the firmness of mind and character he constantly evidences.

It was said abundant which held Prof. Matteucci and his associates in the observatory on Mt. Vesuvius while the late eruption was at its height—sand from the crater and sand in their compositions.

The reception of Gorky by the Americans, says a St. Petersburg cablegram, is worrying the czar. The opinion of the czar on the bouncing of this same Gorky by the Gothamites is yet to be heard from.

The rate bill is one which thoroughly fails to develop party lines in either house of congress. The leaders and the followers are at sixes and sevens over the act.

The girl who stops the clock just before her special beau arrives does not do it to check the flight of time. Her purpose is to delay the flight of her beau.

Italy has already begun to ask when the Vesuvius "boil" is likely to be picked again by Mother Nature? The query is respectfully referred to Prof. Matteucci.

It is a debatable question which is the most "marryingist" of women, the nurse or the telephone girl. The statistician will undertake to settle the matter.

ARBITRATION

IS THE ONLY QUESTION SAY THE COAL BARONS.

The Recognition of Union as Waived by Miners Declared Immaterial.

New York, April 18.—The sub-committee of the presidents of the anthracite coal carrying railroads and mine operators yesterday drew up a letter to President Mitchell in which the operators again declare there is nothing to arbitrate except the question whether there shall be any arbitration. This reply is made in response to Mitchell's recent amended proposition of arbitration. The operators do not, however, refuse point blank to accept Mitchell's latest plan. They assert all the differences between the miners and employers were decided by the strike commission, and there is no reason why another attempt should be made to arbitrate them. After describing the previous steps of the two sides and commenting upon plans suggested by the miners, the operators aver the miners have rejected all the propositions and they have nothing further to offer.

"Fundamental principles regarding the conduct of this business have all been established by the strike commission," the operators declare, and "no reason is suggested why they should be retried. We have no further suggestions to make than those contained in our former propositions and we regret you have declined both of them. We have nothing further to offer."

The operators assert the miners' offer to waive formal recognition of miners' union is not material and declare the miners' program would increase the cost of domestic sizes of coal $1.20 per ton.

THE FISCAL COURT

SPECIAL SESSION OPENED THIS MORNING, ON CALL.

Committee Named to Buy New Location for the Poor Farm.

The McCracken fiscal court met this morning in special session for the purpose of looking over plans for the new poor farm, and to take action towards building a new poor house.

All magistrates were present except F. F. Gholson.

The principal action taken was that of appointing a committee to buy property to report back to the county judge. The poor house committee, composed of Magistrates Thompson, Emery, Blech and Broadfoot, was named and will consider bids at once. The land is not to exceed 10 acres. The committee has several sites in view and will select as soon as possible, probably this week.

The court house committee was ordered to have the jail painted on the outside.

The committee was also authorized to place a toilet room in the basement of the court house. The county judge was added to the committee and this matter will be attended to at once.

Judge Lightfoot in adjourning court complimented the board highly on the progressive spirit displayed.

"This board," he stated, "I am proud to say, has done more in the improvement line than any other board I have seen since my incumbency." It has not hesitated in making all improvements necessary, and the position it takes in the matter is an envious one to other boards."

STREET WORK STARTS

CONTRACTORS SEND SUPERINTENDENT HERE, PRELIMINARIES BEING READY.

The Sewer Work Will Start Tomorrow and Be Pushed to Completion.

The work of laying storm water sewers on Kentucky avenue, the preliminary work of the street reconstruction job proper, will begin tomorrow. The pipe arrived yesterday and is being unloaded and placed today, and Contractor George Gardner is expected back from Nashville tonight. He will start the work of excavating for the sewers on Kentucky avenue as soon as he arrives. The work was intended to begin today, but was necessarily delayed by his departure to Nashville.

The Southern Bitulithic company, the main contractor, is very anxious to start the work at once, and has sent Mr. Arthur L. Townsend, of Nashville, here to superintend the work. He is ready to start at once.

The company also has Mr. W. H. Paul, inspector of the street work, in Cedar Bluff getting out crushed rock for the jobs. The work will be pushed with little delay when once started, the contractors having arranged all necessary preliminaries and offered no cause for delay.

City Engineer Washington is ready with his part of the work. All profiles and drawings are ready and he will have his inspectors here to report for work at any time. If the weather holds out Paducahans will see the fastest street building ever done in Paducah.

COINCIDENCES

IRVIN STARR PULLS MAN FROM RIVER AND FORCES ONE IN.

Watchman on Dick Fowler Works a Reversal of a Deed Performed—An Interesting Character.

To save a man from drowning and then effect just the reverse is the experiment forced on Irvin Starr, night watchman on the steamer Dick Fowler. Starr does not know just how he stands, the result of his work, but does not think he has anything coming either way—most certainly not on the debtor column of life's ledger.

Starr Tuesday morning caught an unknown negro thief making away with a box of jelly from the wharf at the foot of Broadway. He called to the thief to halt and was forced to fire his pistol at the fleeing form. The negro was either struck or frightened into jumping into the river; at any rate he disappeared over the side of the barge tied to the Fowler, and his body has not been recovered yet.

Starr stated this morning that one year ago yesterday, May 17th, he pulled a white man out of the river at St. Louis, Mo. The man had fallen off a boat and Starr, who has followed the river most of his life, jumped in after him. He had a struggle, but landed his man safe on the bank. The papers gave Starr write-ups, and the marine has kept them in a scrap book. "The remarkable fact of the incident of yesterday," Starr stated this morning, "is that one year ago to the day I saved a man from drowning. Yesterday I was forced to make one jump into the river—just the reverse of my previous performance."

The body of the unknown man, whom Starr forced to "take to water," has not been discovered. The authorities have sent out notices of warning down the river, and when the body comes to the surface it will probably be caught below the city.

Starr is a very unusual character. He is about middle age, of good appearance and educated. He wears the uniform of the salvation army, having seen experience in this work. He says he is from the world at large, and his career has been one of adventure from his early youth when thrown on his own resources.

DEATH OF MISS COCKRELL.

Young Lady Widely Known, With Relatives in Paducah.

Miss Anna Boone Cockrell, age 26, of Lamont, daughter of Mr. W. T. Cockrell, a prominent farmer of that section, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, after a long illness.

She was well known and popular in Paducah having visited here on several occasions. She was a cousin of Mrs. Richard Clements and Mrs. R. E. Ashbrook and was a lovely young lady of many fine qualities of character. Beside a father and mother she leaves three sisters and one brother.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the McKendree Methodist church, interment at the McKendree cemetery.

DOG POUND

CHIEF COLLINS IS TO HAVE ONE BUILT SOON.

Will Make it a "Quick Order" Enterprise and Will Dispose of Canines That Way.

James Collins, chief of police, is to have a "quick order" dog pound; one of those "served while you wait" kind. Quick justice will thus be dealt roving canines unclaimed and untaxed.

Mayor Yelser at the city hall received a visit from a pack of dogs two weeks ago and saw the necessity of the enforcement of the dog license ordinance. He brought the matter up in the council and Chief Collins was ordered to build a pound and start taking up dogs. The chief is preparing to go into the business right.

"I am going to have a quick justice arrangement this time," the chief explained. "I am waiting for the river to subside and when it has done so sufficiently will build me a portable pound on the river bank. This pound will be located within close range of the Ghent & Elliott 'oil boat.' Messrs. Ghent and Elliott boil dogs, horses, and in fact all animal carcasses and get the oil and tallow, which they sell. They take all dead bodies from the city and I intend to make the gentlemen watchmen of the pound, if they will accept, and when dogs are unclaimed, and after they have been kept the proper length of time, will be consigned to Messrs. Ghent and Elliott, and they will put them to death and boil their bodies. This will be quick justice. It will save the city a great deal and will mean much to the oil manufacturing firm. It will mean less carcasses in the river, and is the best arrangement I can think of."

Chief Collins will probably have to station some one at the pound in the day to exhibit dogs, receive money and release the dogs when claimed and settled for. He has not decided who this will be. The pound not being located in the city will save residents about the hall, where formerly located, many sleepless nights.

CIVIL TERM

OF THE CIRCUIT COURT BEGINS REGULARLY MONDAY.

Grand Jury of Criminal Court Still in Session, but Will Adjourn Friday.

Judge Wm. Reed is away from the city today and no more circuit court will be held until Friday, when he will return and hear any reports the grand jury has to make.

The grand jury is still in session and it is understood is looking into the health matter—after persons guilty of maintaining nuisances. The jury has a great deal of time to investigate other matters generally, having finished with all jail cases, and will doubtless make a very interesting report Friday.

The regular April term of civil circuit court will begin Monday. The petit jury will be empaneled and trial by jury begun. The term lasts six weeks.

THE COMMENCEMENT

PROGRAM PARTLY OUTLINED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON BY SUB-COMMITTEE.

Will Be Three Big Features, a Prominent Speaker to Be the Main One.

Supt. C. M. Lieb and Principal E. G. Payne, of the High school, yesterday afternoon met and discussed the commencement matter, outlining plans for the coming commencement.

The date was fixed for June 7th at the Kentucky theater. There will be a white and colored commencement this year, the white coming Thursday night, June 7, and the colored Friday the 8th.

There will be three features, the matter of arranging the program having been left to the principal and superintendent, with the assistance of what few teachers who desire to assist in the work. The class' honorary members will have prominence on the program and a speaker will be secured, a white educator for the white commencement, and colored man for the colored commencement.

The speakers are to be selected later. The matter of selecting them has been left to Supt. Lieb for the white, and Prof. E. W. Benton, for the colored. No one has yet been secured.

"We will lead off with a class chorus," Supt. Lieb stated this morning "and there will be other musical features besides this. The salutatory will come first, then the speaker and last the valedictory. We think this will prove an unique commencement and the old stereotyped form will be done away with."

The date for selecting the honorary members of the class has not been fixed, but will be decided on in the next week or two. The report of the decision of the committee relative to the program will be made at the next meeting of the board, but the committee from the board left this matter in the hands of the two school officials, with power to act.

Tobacco Trade Exposition.

(From Louisville Herald.)

For Kentucky the tobacco trades exposition, to be held in Madison Square Garden September 3 to September 15, 1906, is a matter of deep interest. The exposition, which will be held under the auspices of the Tobacco Trade Exposition company, will be official, representatives from the government of the United States and of Canada being in attendance. The exposition will present every feature of the tobacco industry and of allied industries, in all of which Kentucky has vital concerns. The cultivation, growth and curing of tobacco leaf will be illustrated under the supervision of the agricultural departments of the United States and Canada. Not only a field of tobacco in full bloom, but cornucopia of briar and meerschaum pipe making, cigar and cigarette machines, together with suction tables, grinders, dryers and cigar molds will be shown. Place there will be for boxmaking, label printing, cigar ribbons and cigar bands. An exhibit will be made of agricultural implements in the cultivation of tobacco and of seed fertilizers will also be presented.

Advertising novelties in great variety will be exhibited, while the spacious Madison Square Garden itself will be transformed into street scenes in Havana, Porto Rico, West Indies, Tampa and Key West. Natives in Oriental costumes will display Turkish and Egyptian cigarettes. There will be a thousand-mile trip through the western countries and the tobacco fields in a touring car. Not least interesting among the features of the marvelous exposition will be a Southern tobacco plantation with the darkies singing quaint Southern melodies, and a real Southern tobacco auction sale.

The occasion will be educative and profitable from several standpoints. Kentucky ought to be as the largest tobacco state in the Union, represented at the Tobacco Trades Exposition.

Movement of Theatrical Company.

The movement for the Viola Allen theatrical company was received by the I. C. this morning. The show will move from Lexington to Paducah on May 8. It will be delivered by the L. and N. to the I. C. at Louisville, and will leave Louisville at 7:30 a. m. arriving in Paducah at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The company numbers 35 people and travels in one sleeper, a day coach and two 60-foot baggage cars.

SEEK DAMAGES FOR LYNCHING.

Suit for $50,000 Is Begun in the Federal Court At Covington.

Covington, Ky., April 18.—The hearing of a $50,000 damage suit based on the lynching of the husband and father of the plaintiffs is on trial in the United States court here. The plaintiffs are Mrs. Mary E. Thacker, widow of William J. Thacker, and her four children. The defendants are John Gordon and a score more, all farmers and farmers' sons near Flemingsburg, Fleming county, who are said to have lynched Thacker for the killing of John Gordon, son of a prominent farmer at that place, July 30, 1900. The Gordon named in the suit is father of the defendant. The opening day of the trial was occupied with legal questions, one being, "Is a rope with which a man is hanged a deadly weapon within the meaning of the statute under which the plaintiffs are seeking to recover?"

"On what grounds do you expect to get a divorce from your wife?" asked the friend. "Incompatibility of temper," replied the dissatisfied husband. "She is always quarreling with the cook, and I can't afford to lose the cook."—Chicago Daily News.

Probably: "What are you crying for?" "I fell down on the ice, and papa laughed at me." "But that's nothing to cry about." "I know it, and I ain't crying about that; but papa fell down on the ice and I laughed at him." "Well, I wouldn't cry about that, either." "You would if you got the spanking I got."—Houston Post.

RIVER NEWS

River Stages.
Cairo	42.4	1.1	fall

Davis Island Dam	10.2	0.2	fall
St. Louis	24.8	0.2	fall
Mt. Vernon	24.9	1.0	fall
Paducah	31.6	1.6	fall

The river fell 1.6 the past 24 hours, and will continue falling indefinitely, from present outlooks, falling very fast the later part of the week.

The Dick Fowler cleared for Cairo on usual time this morning.

The Joe Fowler was the Evansville packet today.

The Clyde has been receiving freight all day and will leave this afternoon for the Tennessee river with a good trip.

The Butterff came in last night from Clarksville and gets out today for Nashville.

The Saffillo passed out of the Tennessee for St. Louis early this morning.

The Inverness came in from the Cumberland river this morning.

River Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville, not much change tonight and Wednesday, with probably a rising tendency. At Mt. Vernon will continue falling during the next 36 hours. At Paducah and Cairo will continue falling for an indefinite period, the fall at Cairo will be very rapid during the remainder of this week. The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth will continue falling. The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo will continue falling. The Wabash at Mt. Carmel will continue falling.

In honor of the noted Virginian, "Light Horse Harry Lee," the steamer City of Wheeling, now undergoing repairs at Paducah, Ky., will be renamed the "Harry Lee." Capt. Robert Lee, general manager of the Lee Line, has made a request through the surveyor of customs at Paducah that the name be changed, and it is hardly possible that the request will be denied. The boat was purchased a short time ago from the Vicksburg and Greenville Packet company, and when she comes off the ways at Paducah she will compare favorably with the Georgia Lee, one of the best of the Lee liners. Her length is 175 feet and she is forty feet wide. She will ply in one of the short runs out of Memphis.

The Evansville Courier says: Henderson promises to be the center of the largest mussel shell industry in the United States. The Ohio river from Louisville to Cairo, Ill., has had thousands of dollars to go to waste by not utilizing this very valuable natural resource and by not applying the industry necessary to develop the enterprise, but under the direction and control of Messrs. W. H. Soaper and W. T. Barrett mussel fishing promises to be one of Henderson's great enterprises and to give employment to a large force of men. These gentlemen have acquired mussel beds from Louisville to Cairo, Ill., and already have a large fleet of 200 boats for handling the catch.

Another big tow of coal is on the way to the city and will arrive here in a few days. The Sam Brown, Coal City and James Moren, with close to a million bushels, are above Cincinnati, coming down. Most of the coal is for Southern shipment, but a large portion of it is for the local trade.

THREE IN ONE DAY.

Louisville, Ky., Comes to the Front With Suicides.

Louisville, Ky., April 18.—An attempt by a jealous husband to kill his wife followed by his suicide and successful efforts at self-destruction by two other persons were features of Louisville's criminal record yesterday.

Elihus Thomas, a decorator, shot "life twice and then turned the weapon on himself, dying instantly. Mrs. Thomas, who before her marriage was the daughter of a well-known physician, is paralyzed from the waist down as the result of her wounds, but has a chance for recovery. The wife's jealousy of her husband's attentions to another woman is alleged to have been the cause of the tragedy.

While his wife's arms were clasped about him and she was endeavoring to prevent the deed, Fred Diering, a dairyman, cut his own throat, dying almost instantly.

The dead body of L. E. Lindner was found in a vacant house whither he had gone to commit suicide.

CHURCH MATTERS

REV. NEWELL GOES TO LOUISVILLE ON IMPORTANT MISSION.

The Revival At the Tenth Street Christian Church Proving Very Successful.

Rev. T. J. Newell will hold his regular prayer service this evening at 7:30 at the Broadway Methodist church.

Dr. Newell will not leave for Louisville until tomorrow noon, where he goes on business connected with the colleges that are to be established by the Kentucky Methodist conference with the Speed endowment fund, one of which Paducah is seeking to secure. Dr. Newell is one of the committee of Paducah citizens appointed to get the institution here. He will be in Louisville for a day.

Next Tuesday evening at 7:30 the second quarterly conference of the Broadway Methodist church will be held in the lecture room of the church. Rev. J. W. Blackard, D. D., presiding elder of the Paducah district, will preside.

There were eleven additions to the Tenth Street Christian church last evening. Rev. J. W. Hudspeeth who is assisting Rev. B. W. Bass in the protracted services, preached a strong sermon on "The Value of the Scriptures." He was heard by a large congregation. His topic for tonight is "Three Greatest Questions Answered Alone in the Bible."

The Paducah Presbytery of the Presbyterian churches convened yesterday at Sturgis, Ky. Mr. E. Rehkopf was a delegate from the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The big tent which has been secured by the Second Baptist church for the revival services was used for the first time last evening. The crowd was so great that even the tent failed to accommodate all. Rev. E. B. Farrar preached a strong sermon and much interest attended the service. Rev. E. H. Cunningham, the pastor, was unable to be present as he has been ill since Sunday. He is improving, and expects to be out at the services again soon.

BOTH MAYORS ILL

MAYOR YEISER CONTINUES ILL, BUT IS SOME BETTER.

President of Aldermen Starks Is Also Confined to His Home Today.

Mayor Yeiser is quite sick at his home on North Fourth street, but his family and his physician say he is not dangerously ill. He had improved today and yesterday, but is still very weak. His family looks for a daily improvement now, but it will be several days yet before he will be able to be up.

Alderman Starks Ill.

President of the Aldermen Oscar Starks is confined to his home today and will be laid up for a few days. He submitted to an operation last night, and is weak and ill from the effects.

"I was very sick, but looked forward to the day when I could claim her as my own. A giggle came through the speaker tube. I do not own the house Uncle Doctor left me any more. It is owned by the city."

WAS THE COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Some Splendid Addresses Delivered By Prominent Citizens During Evening.

The meeting of the Commercial club at the city hall last night was a very largely attended and most interesting one.

Col. L. D. Husband's address on "The Past History of Paducah" was very interesting. Col. Husband, probably more than any other citizen of Paducah, is familiar with the city in its earliest days, its rise from a village, and his address last night teemed with incident and facts of the most interesting periods.

The Rev. D. C. Wright delivered an address on "Impressions of Paducah" which was an interesting contribution to the program. Mr. J. T. Donovan addressed the meeting on "The Relation of Railroads to River Transportation," and Mr. Charles K. Wheeler also delivered an interesting address.

The Tobacco Market.

The tobacco market today did not show up so strong as in the past two weeks. The total offerings amounted to 88 hogheads and grades and prices were slightly lower than the preceding week.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE

ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private life to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Following we publish two letters from a woman who accepted this invitation. Note the result:

First letter.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For eight years I have suffered something terrible every month. The pains are excruciating and I can hardly stand them. My doctor says I have a severe female trouble, and I must go through an operation if I want to get well. I do not want to submit to it if I can possibly help it. Please tell me what to do. I hope you can relieve me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 54th and E. Capitol Streets, Washington, D. C.

Second letter.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"After following carefully your advice, and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am very anxious to send you my testimonial, that others may know their value and what you have done for me."

"As you know, I wrote you that my doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I then wrote you, telling you my ailments. I followed your advice and am entirely well. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I owe my life to you and to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I wish every suffering woman would read this testimonial and realize the value of writing to you and your remedy."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 54th and E. Capitol Streets, Washington, D. C.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women whose testimony is so unquestionable, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

COURT STOPS WORK

DECISION FAVORS AND DELIGHTS GRAPERS IN CINCINNATI.

The Legislature, Says the Judge, Had No Authority to Order Investigation.

Cincinnati, April 18.—The state senate had no authority to authorize the investigation of the public offices of Cincinnati and Hamilton county, as carried on by the Drake committee, according to a decision filed by the common pleas court in this city.

The case was that of Thos. J. Davis, cashier of the First National bank in this city, whose refusal to appear as a witness before the Drake committee led to his arrest in a sensational manner, followed by the service of a writ of habeas corpus and the bringing of the prisoner before the common pleas court for hearing. The opinion rendered by Judge Smith today is very voluminous and is in part, as follows:

"The court is therefore of the opinion that the power asserted herein is judicial and not legislative; that the senate had no authority to authorize the investigation as set out in the resolution; that the committee therefore had no lawful authority to require the petitioner to testify; that the resolution, subpoenas and warrants are in like manner void for want of jurisdiction, and that his detention was without any lawful authority."

The court further refused to consider technical points which had been raised and ordered the release of the prisoner.

The Drake committee consisted of three democratic senators, the two republicans who had originally been named as members having formally notified the senate that they refused to serve. This was one of the points brought before the court during the argument. The sessions of the committee were held on Fridays and Saturdays of each week during the session of the legislature, and brought out considerable testimony as to the conduct of public offices in this country.

Most remarkable was the testimony as to the payment of the banks of interest on deposits to county treasurers, this payment being called in some instances a "gratuity," the amount running from 2 to 2½ per cent. on average balances.

Following these disclosures and the public discussion of them a total of $214,000 has been paid into the county treasury by county treasurers, that being the amount estimated that they had received from various banks during their terms in office. The committee did not meet during the closing days of the legislative session, but adjourned until this week, the illness of Senator Schmidt of Cleveland, causing the second postponement until next Tuesday, April 24.

A Young Mother At 70.

"My mother has suddenly been made young at 70. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until six months ago, when she began taking Electric Bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Me. Greatest restorative medicine on the globe. Sets Stomach, Liver and Kidneys right, purifies the blood, and cures Malaria, Biliousness and Weaknesses. Wonderful Nerve Tonic. Price 50c. Guaranteed by McPherson's Drug Store.

Railroad Engineer Killed.

Louisville, Ky., April 18.—John D. Grady, a Louisville and Nashville engineer was killed Monday afternoon while acting as substitute for another engineer who was ill. Grady, who was a freight engineer, had been given charge of fast mail No. 7 from Cincinnati to Nashville, in place of Engineer Kenna. The train left Cincinnati at 11:20 and had reached Zion, Ky., when, in coming around a curve, the engine left the track and was overturned. Grady was crushed to death beneath it and Fireman H. E. Dunaway was slightly injured.

Danger From the Plague.

There's grave danger from the plague of Coughs and Colds that are so prevalent, unless you take Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds. Mrs. Geo. Walls of Forest City, Me., writes: "It's a Godsend to people living in climates where coughs and colds prevail. I find it quickly ends them. It prevents Pneumonia, cures La Grippe gives wonderful relief in Asthma and Hay Fever, and makes weak lungs strong enough to ward off Consumption, Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by McPherson's Drug Store. Trial bottle free."

REMODELING WORK AT PALMER

It Is Progressing Well, but Is Necessarily Slow.

The excavation work on the basement under the Palmer House is progressing rapidly. As soon as all the excavations have been made the work of building the concrete and brick work will start. The foundations of the hotel are very strong, and the work of cutting through the brick pillars and walls has been a good task, as the supports are so thick. Big iron girders as supports are being provided to supplement them, however.

The work on the dining room will not be started until all the departments to be located in the basement are completed. The plans for the dining room call for three dining rooms, one large dining room, a grill room and a dining room for private parties. A special floor for dances will be provided for the large dining room, and hereafter the Co-tillion club dances and many private dances will be given therein.

Drowned in View of Wife.

Owensboro, Ky., April 18.—While on his way to effect a reconciliation with his young wife, from whom he had been separated, Thomas Lelsure was drowned in Rough river Monday.

Some time ago Lelsure separated from his wife. Friends have been endeavoring to restore peaceful relations between the two, but not until yesterday did they succeed in obtaining the consent of the young man to return to his wife's home and talk over their differences together.

To reach the home it was necessary for him to cross Rough river. The high waters of the spring had washed away the bridges and Lelsure had about decided to abandon his visit when he suddenly exclaimed that he would swim across the river. He could see his wife's home and she was awaiting his coming, willing for the reconciliation. He removed his coat and plunged into the water.

When within ten feet of the opposite shore he called to his friends on the bank that he was drowning. Without struggling he sank and did not rise. His body was recovered.

REDUCED RATES

CARNIVAL ASSOCIATION GETS REDUCTION IN RAILROAD RATES.

Meeting Held By Association Last Night—Country Store Matter Up—Other Notes.

The Paducah Carnival Association held a meeting last night with every member of all committees present.

The report of the railroad committee was made. The railroads have agreed to one and a quarter fares for the round trip.

The advertising committee reported satisfactory work in billing Paducah and other nearby towns and advertising is being done on a big scale this season.

The matter of having a country store this year was taken up, and referred to a committee to confer with the Daughters of the Confederacy. It is intended that this order take the store and make what it can on it. The association is willing to give the entire profit to go to the order. It is thought the carnival company will do the same.

Tomorrow Promoter E. M. Johnson and Secretary Rodney Davis, of the local association, will go to Jackson, Tenn., to inspect the shows.

NO PEACEFUL END.

Dowie Rejects Voliva's Proposal to Arbitrate Differences.

Chicago, April 18.—All negotiations looking toward a peaceful settlement of the question as to who shall control Zion City and its vast resources are off today.

Dowie rejected Voliva's proposal for arbitration on the grounds that not only would he not acquiesce in the appointment of Voliva on the board, but that he no longer recognized the new leader as a member of the church. A bill in chancery is to be filed by Dowie, petitioning that the transfer of the property of Zion City by Voliva be declared null and void.

According to a statement of his attorneys and his followers, Dowie will go to Zion City some time this week. It is believed by the Dowieites that when the "First Apostle" enters Zion City he will do so at the head of the church. Voliva, they say, will be excommunicated.

A Question of Ownership.

Louisville, Ky., April 18.—The courts will have to decide who is the owner of $1,500 in gold dug up on the site of the new "Mary Anderson" theater at Fourth and Chestnut streets. The money was found last Thursday by Preston and Andrew Davis, negro workmen. It was an ill-fated find for them, as it cost Andrew Davis his life, while Preston Davis is badly wounded.

The negroes carried the money away with them after a wild struggle with the other negroes who were at work on the excavation. Andrew Davis left sixty-five $20 gold pieces with a grocer. On a writ of attachment $200 of this money was secured later, but Davis had taken the rest and with his brother had gone to the home of their mother, near Campbellsville, in Taylor county. Marshall Taylor of Campbellsville, was notified and went to recover the money. The men refused to give it up and a pistol battle followed, in which Andrew Davis was killed, Porter Davis wounded and Marshall Taylor shot through the body. Taylor recovered $800. The rest of the $1,500 has not been found.

Mr. P. L. Atherton, who owns the ground from which the money was found, and Henry Bickel, the contractor who was engaged in the work of excavation, both claim the gold, of which $1,000 has now been recovered. They have taken the matter into the courts.

It is believed the money was buried by Capt. A. N. Shotwell, a well-known river man, who occupied the house during the civil war. The coins were all of the date of 1861 and 1862.

A TALE OF THE THIRD GENERATION

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright by Lothrop Publishing Company.

Percival had walked the floor in deep attention to the old man's words.

"You've got me right, Uncle Peter," he said at last. "And you're right about what I ought to do. I've often thought I'd go into some of these big operations here. But for one thing I was afraid of what you'd say. And then, I didn't know the game very well. But I see I ought to do something. You're dead right."

"And we need more money, too," urged the old man. "I was reading a piece of the other day about the big fortunes in New York. Why, we ain't one, two, three, with the dinky little twelve or thirteen millions we could swing. You don't want to be a piker, do you? If you go in the game at all, play her open and high. Make 'em well get into the hundred million class as not, and I know it. They needn't talk to me—I know you have got some brains. If you was to go in now I would keep you straight and busy, and take you out of this pin-head class that only spends their pa's money."

"You're all right, Uncle Peter! I certainly did need you to come along right now and set me straight. You founded the fortune, pa, rebled it, and now I'll get to work and roll it up like a big snowball."

"That's the talk. Get into the hundred million class, and show these wasps folks you got something in you besides hot air, like the sayin' is. Then they won't always be askin' you your pa was—they'll be wantin' to know you are, by Cripes! Then you can have the biggest steam yacht afloat, two or three of 'em, and the best house in New York, and palaces over in England; and Pish'll be able to hold up her head in company over there. You can finance that proposition right up to the nines."

"By Jove! but you're right. You're a wonder, Uncle Peter. And that reminds me—"

He stopped in his walk.

"I gave it hardly any thought at the time, but now it looks bigger than a mountain. I know just the things to start in on systematically. Now don't breathe a word of this, but there's a big deal on in Consolidated Copper. I happened on to the fact in a queer way the other night. There's a broker I've known downtown—fellow by the name of Relpin. Met him last summer. He does most of Shepherd's business; he's supposed to be closer to Shepherd and know more about the inside of his deals than any man in the street. Well, I ran across Relpin down in the cafe the other night and he was wearing one of those 'nobby' three-button suits. Nothing would do but I should dine with him, so I did. It was the night you and the folks went to the opera with the Old-akers. Relpin was full of lovely talk and dark hints about a rise in copper stock, and a bigger rise in Western Trolley, and another rise than either of them in Union Cordage. How that fellow can do Shepherd's business and drink the stuff that makes you talk I don't see. Anyway he said—and you can bet what he says goes—that the Consolidated is going to control the world's supply of copper. Inside of three months, and the stock is bound to kite, and so are these other two stocks; Shepherd's back of all three. The insiders are buying up now, slowly and cautiously, so as not to start any boom prematurely. Consolidated is 110 now, and it'll be up to 150 by April at the latest. The others may go beyond that, wasn't looking for the game at the time, so I didn't give it any thought, but you see, there's our chance. We'll plunge in those three lines before they start to rise, and be in on the ground floor."

"Now don't you be rash! That Shepherd's old enough to suck eggs and hide the shells. I heard a man say the other day copper was none too good at 110."

"Exactly. You can hear anything you're looking to hear, down there. But I tell you this was straight. Don't you suppose Shepherd knows what he's about?—there's a boy that won't be peddling shoe laces and gum-drops off one of these neat little boom trays—not for eighty-five or ninety thousand years yet—and Relpin, even if he was drunk, knows Shepherd's deals like you know Skiplap. They'll hear the stocks all they can while they're buying up. I wouldn't be surprised if the next Consolidated dividend was reduced. That would send her down a few points and throw more stock on the market. Meantime, they're quietly workin' to get control of the European mines—and as to Western Trolley and Union Cordage—say, Relpin actually got to crying—they're so good—he had one of those loving ones, the kind where you want to be good to every one in the world. I'm surprised he didn't get into sandwich sign and patrol Broadway, giving those tips to everybody."

"Course, we're on a proposition now that you know more about it than I do; you certainly do take right hold at once—that was your pa's way, too. Daniel J. could look farther ahead in a minute than most men could in a year. I got to trust you wholly in these matters, and I know I can do it, too. I got confidence in you, no matter what the people say. They don't know you, do they? And if there's any other things you know about fur sure—"

"Well, there's Burman. He's plungin' in corn now. His father has staked him, and he swears he can't lose. He was after me to put aside a million. Of course if he does win out it would be big money."

"Well, son I can't advise you none—except I know you have got a head on you, no matter how people talk. You know about this end of the game, and I'll have to be led entirely by you. If you think Burman's got a good proposition, why, there ain't anything like gettin' action all along the layout, from ace down to seven-spot and back to the king card."

"That's the talk. I'll see Relpin today or to-morrow. I'll bet he tries to hedge on what he said. But I got him too straight—let a drunken man alone for telling the truth when he's got it in him. We'll start in buying at once."

"It does sound good. I must say you take hold of it considerably like Dan'l J. would 'a' done—and use my money just like your own. I do want to see you takin' your place where you belong. This life of idleness you been leadin'—one continual patch the whole time—it ain't doin' you a bit of good."

"We'll get action, don't you worry. Now let's have lunch downstairs, and then go for a drive. It's too fine a day to stay in."

Percival confessed to his mother that night that he had wronged Uncle Peter.

"That old boy is all right yet," he said, with deep conviction. "Don't make any mistake there. He has bigger ideas than I gave him credit for. I suggested branching out here in a business way, to-day, and the old fellow got right in line. If anybody tells you that old Pete Bines hasn't got the leaves of his little calendar torn off right up to date you just feel wise inside, and see what odds are posted on it!"

CHAPTER XXII.
CONCERNING CONSOLIDATED COPPER AND PETER BINES AS MATCHMAKERS.

Consolidated Copper at 110. The day after his talk with Uncle Peter, Percival through three different brokers gave orders to buy 10,000 shares. "I tried to give Relpin an order for 5,000 shares over the telephone," he said to Uncle Peter, "but they're used to those fifty and a hundred thousand dollar pikers down in that neighborhood. He seemed to think I was joshing him. When I told him I meant it and was ready to take practically all he could buy for the next few weeks or so, I think he fell over in the booth and had to be helped out."

Orders for 20,000 more shares in 1,000 share lots during the next three weeks sent the stock to 115. Yet wise men in the street seemed to fear the stock. They were waiting cautiously for more definite leadings. The plunging of Bines made rather a sensation, and when it became known that his holdings were large and growing almost daily larger, the waning confidence of a speculator here and there would be revived.

At 115 the stock rested again, with few sales recorded. A certain few of the elect regarded this calm as ominous. It was half believed by others that the manipulations of the inner ring would presently advance the stock to a sensational figure, and that the reckless young man from Montana might be acting upon information of a definite character. But among the veteran speculators the feeling was conservative. Before buying they preferred to await some sign that the advance had actually begun. The conservatives were mostly the bald old fellows. Among the illusions that rarely survive a man's hair in Wall street is the one that "sure things" are necessarily sure.

Percival watched Consolidated Cop-

A Woman's Gratitude

"For more than a year I had been a sufferer, completely broken down. I had not slept but two or three hours any night for weeks. I had such awful misery in my head, and oh, I was so irritable. I could not depend upon my judgment, and my memory was failing. I realized that I was losing my mind, and I thought the grave, or worse, the asylum, would be my doom. My doctor said my case was beyond the reach of medicine. I went to a druggist and told him my condition. He recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine; he was pretty sure it would help me, so I bought a bottle. That night I took a table spoonful, and fell asleep in a few minutes, the first rest I had in weeks, and oh, I will never forget that sweet sleep while I live. I have continued taking it, and sleep like a baby, and gain rapidly."

Bad Stomach Makes Bad Blood.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foiled the result will be torpid, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made of a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs; especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of nervous (heartburn) and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal glands."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Blood-root and Mandrake root, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Robert A. Hare, M. D., of Medical Department, University of Pa.; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Department, University of New York; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., and Prof. John King, M. D., Authors of the American Dispensatory, and scores of others among the leading medical men of our land.

Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

Constipation cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One or two a dose.

per go back to 110, and bought again 10,000 shares. The price went up two points the day after his orders were placed, and two days later dropped back to 110. The conservatives began to agree with the younger set of speculators, in so far as both now believed that the stock was behaving in an unnatural manner, indicating that "something was doing"—that manipulation behind the scenes was under way to a definite end. The conservatives and the radicals differed as to what this end was. But then, Wall street is nourished almost exclusively upon differences of opinion.

Percival now had accounts with five firms of brokers.

"Relpin," he explained to Uncle Peter, "is a foxy boy. He's foxier than a fox. He not only tried to hedge on what he told me—said he'd been drinking absinthe frappe that day, and it always gets him dreamy—but he actually had the nerve to give me the opposite steer. Of course he knows the deal clear to the center, and Shepherd knows that he knows, and he must have been afraid Shepherd would suspect he'd been talking. So I only traded a few thousand shares with him. Funny about him, too. I never heard before of his drinking anything to speak of. And there isn't a man in the street comes so near to knowing what the big boys are up to. But we're on the winning cards all right. I get exactly the same information from a dozen confidential sources; some of it I can trace to Relpin, and some of it right to Shepherd himself."

"Course I'm leavin' it all to you," answered Uncle Peter; "and I must say I do admire the way you take hold and get things on the move. You don't let any grass grow under your heels. You got a good head for them things. I can tell by the way you start out—just like your pa fur all the world. I'll feel safe enough about my money as long as you keep your health. If only you got the nerve. I've known men would play a big proposition half through and then get scared and pull out. Your pa wasn't that way. He could get a proposition right by its handle every time, and they never come any too big fur him; the bigger they was, better he liked 'em. That's the kind of genius I think you got. You ain't afraid to take a chance."

Percival beamed modestly under praise of this sort, which now came to him daily.

"It's good discipline for me, too, Uncle Peter. It's what I needed, something to put my mind on. I needed a new interest in life. You had me down right. I wasn't doing myself a bit of good with nothing to occupy my mind."

Another Automobile Accident. Millville, N. J., April 17.—As a result of an automobile accident near here early this morning, Robert J. Wright, a prominent lawyer of Philadelphia was killed and four others badly injured.

FOREWARNED NOT ALWAYS FOREARMED

(Original.)

When Uncle Doctor died—his first name was Adoniram, so we called him by a shorter one—he left me his house, in which he had lived alone since the death of his wife. Unfortunately I had no wife to help me make a home in it, but I concluded to occupy it alone till I could sell it. I occupied my uncle's bedroom and was so much annoyed at naughty boys shouting up the speaking tube—close by the bed—that I thought of having it taken out. I gave up the idea on account of the expense. I lived alone in this way a month, when I grew tired of my solitude and resolved to rent the place.

Among those who called to inspect the premises were two young ladies, Miss Acton and her cousin, Miss Dutton. Miss Acton wished to rent the house for herself and her mother, while Miss Dutton was to live with them. Miss Acton was a tall, rather elderly girl, with a masculine voice, Miss Dutton a fair haired little thing, with blue eyes and a soft voice that I have observed usually goes with these feminine blonds. I showed them over the house, with which Miss Acton seemed to be pleased, and when they went away she asked me not to rent it till the next day, when she would call again.

The next morning, feeling indisposed after breakfast, I took my paper and threw myself on the bed. There was a ring at the doorbell, and I was about to go down to see who was there when I heard the words, "I'll be a pound of candy I catch him within two months." The voice was Miss Acton's. I would have known it among a hundred. I waited to hear more. Something more was spoken, but in Miss Dutton's softer voice, and she doubtless stood with her back to the tube. At any rate I couldn't hear it. I kept them waiting as long as I dared, then went down and admitted them.

Miss Acton told me that she had decided to take the house provided I would reduce the rent, keeping for my own use any room I might select. This proposition, taken with what I had heard through the tube, interested me. I told the lady I would think the matter over and advise her.

I made up my mind that the young lady had taken a fancy to me and had proposed to keep me in the house on purpose to win me. Had the remark come from her cousin I might have been tempted to fall an easy prey to her arts. As it was I was simply interested in showing the girl that I was not to be caught. The next day I wrote her a note accepting her proposition.

In due time Miss Acton, her mother and her cousin moved into the house. I keeping my bedroom. The speaking tube which I had considered an annoyance I now looked upon as a means of defense against designing women. If they would only tell their secrets on my front stoop I should be always warned. Miss Acton soon commenced her wiles. I greatly preferred her cousin on account of her native modesty and would have shown her attention, but she wouldn't permit it. I was the more drawn to her, since it was evident she was too honorable to interfere with Miss Acton. I confess it was rather diverting to chime in with Miss Acton's intentions toward me. I amused myself one day pretending to write her any loving words, nor would I speak them where I could be overheard. When, at the end of the farce, she was defeated in her game, she could not at least injure me.

I took her out occasionally in the evening, but always behaved myself discreetly. One evening when my tenants had occupied my house two months lacking one day Miss Acton told me that she had been given two tickets to the theater and asked if I would be her escort. I consented, and we saw an attractive play wherein two desperate flirts were in constant contention. The result was that I went home quite bewitched with the part I was playing and ready to go to any lengths with my companion. When we reached the door she would not enter till I had replied to an indirect question, the only answer to which was a denial or declaration of love. I lost my head and not only told her that I loved her devotedly, but looked forward to the day when I could claim her as my own.

A giggle came through the speaking tube.

I do not own the house Uncle Doctor left me any more. It is owned by Miss Acton. The night I made my spurious proposal her cousin was waiting in my room with her ear at the speaking tube and heard it. At the suit for breach of promise she did not pretend that she had seen me when I proposed marriage, but swore that a few minutes later I and her cousin had entered the house. She explained her presence in my room in this wise: When I was out she frequently went there to read my books. On the evening in question she had gone there, got a book and thrown herself on my bed to read. She gave her testimony as innocently as if she had just come out of the nursery. She carried the jury. I was obliged to sell my house to raise money to pay the judgment and afterward found that the plaintiff had bought it the day the claim was paid. In other words, she paid for my house with the damage done her heart.

I am an old bachelor and live at a club.

THE MEETING OF THE AMAZONS

(Original.)

"General," said the aid-de-camp, riding up to his commander, "I have given your order to the general of the woman's brigade to storm the forts on the hill, but she delays to advance."

"What's the trouble?"

"The field officers of the different regiments are engaged in conversation at the general's headquarters, and it seems impossible for them to bring their words to a close."

"Do they dare discuss the feasibility of an assault?" asked the general angrily.

"No, sir."

"Then what are they talking about?"

"They run from one topic to another, like robins hopping over a newly plowed field."

"Are there other troops in that vicinity?"

"Yes, the Fourth brigade of the Sixth division, the last men in the army. They were to attack the enemy's left wing, but the amazons have blocked the way."

The general scowled and rubbed his chin. The problem was a serious one, but he was full of resources.

"Captain," he said presently, "go at once and inform the general of the Woman's brigade that the forts on the hill command the village of L. If the forts are taken the village will fall into our possession. There are large shops in L, which will be held exclusively for the amazons to plunder."

Putting spurs to his horse the aid galloped away. In half an hour he returned, and saluting respectfully, said: "The forts are taken, sir."

"Good! Of course after the amazons left a clear way the best men in the army attacked the enemy's left as I directed?"

"No, general."

"What! Did this commander disobey the order?"

"No, general. The men were unable to move. They had been standing so long while the amazons talked that their legs would not support them."

"Poor fellows!" muttered the general. "Direct the commissary to push forward a dozen barrels of whisky to revive them."

The aid rode away, and another galloped up and addressed the general excitedly:

"The amazons have taken the forts!"

"Yes, I know that."

"It was a marvelous feat. They were in danger of being cut to pieces, of having their flank turned and of falling into an ambush of a hundred masked guns."

"And did they quell?"

"Not at all; they seemed unconscious of the danger. They took the works in ten minutes."

"And did they hold them?"

"That's what I am sent by my general to report. Having driven the enemy, the amazons rushed wildly down to the shops, leaving the works they had taken without even a corporal's guard. The enemy have returned and have turned the guns on the village, concentrating their fire on the shops."

"I hope," said the general angrily, "the amazons' escape has been cut off."

"They do not wish to escape. Their general ordered them out of the shops, but the order was drowned by the babel of tongues. The turmoil is greater than the army has experienced since the Tenth regiment of men broke into a wholesale liquor house and drank up a hundred barrels of rum."

"Go back and tell your general to turn his artillery on the shops. Perhaps that, in connection with the enemy's guns, will restore the women to their senses."

"He has done it, and it has failed."

"H'm," said the general after some thought. "I will order a general advance of the army. We will leave the shops in rear, and when the goods have been all appropriated perhaps the amazons will return to duty."

With wild hurrahs, the men dashed forward, carrying the encircling hills, and in half an hour the enemy were flying down the opposite declivities. Sending the Seventh corps d'armee in pursuit, the general surrounded the shops with the Eighth division. The amazons, seeing that they were about to be deprived of their prey before it was all appropriated, rallied on the center for resistance. All their ammunition had been expended in their capture of the forts, but they fired buttons, hairpins, buckles, garter clasps—indeed, all the small articles they found on the counters. After these were exhausted they broke up larger articles and fired the fragments. Their ordinance officer was proceeding to break the looking glasses for the same purpose when he was shot dead by the beautiful colonel of the Forty-second regiment.

At this juncture the general-in-chief rode up and, seeing his men needlessly decimated, gave orders to withdraw and leave the amazons to finish their plundering. At sunset their general ordered them to form in the main street, and they did so, each soldier loaded down with bundles. In order to remove this plunder they had left their rifles in the shops. The general-in-chief, thinking to capture them, readily ordered the men to surround them, but the women had armed themselves with hatchets, with which they charged, encumbered as they were, and routed their would be captors.

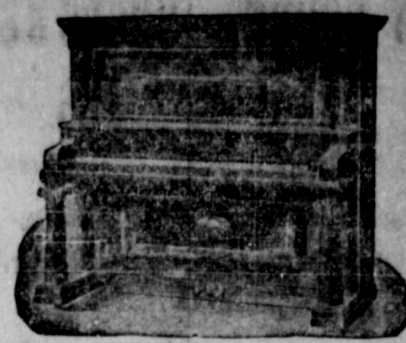

Told, the general resorted to a last expedient. He ordered forward the "six foot brigade" composed of the handsomest men in the army, without arms. In ten minutes these soldiers were carrying the bundles of the amazons, the latter marching beside them in perfect order.

The mutiny was quelled.

THE CITY COURT

FINES ASSESSED IN CASE WHICH IS TO BE TESTED.

The Saloon Men Will Take the Matter Up Higher It Is Said.

Acting Police Judge D. A. Cross this morning fined Sherman Mills, bartender for Ben Allen, Fannie Wilson and Violet Lee, women who entered the Allen saloon, when Mills was on duty, $10 and costs each for a breach of ordinance. They were alleged to have entered the saloon against the provisions of an ordinance, and the bartender was fined for permitting them to enter. The action will probably serve as a test case for the validity of the ordinance, the saloon men intending to appeal the case, it is said. Charge against Ben Allen was dismissed, as was a similar one against W. C. Gray.

One ordinance with similar provisions was decided invalid in the courts once before, but it is said this one differs a little from the first.

Rube Whitlow, Bob Booker, Sam Bell, Chas. Bryant, Will Walter Rowe, Martin Patterson and Sam Wilson, colored, were fined $20 and costs for gaming, and the judgment in Patterson's case suspended.

Will Hickman, white, alleged to have sold a stolen pistol, was held over for obtaining money by false pretenses.

Other cases: Aaron Rogers, colored, drunk and disorderly, $5 and costs; Walter Houston, colored, drunk and disorderly, $5 and costs; Ed Vasseur, white, breach of peace, continued; Georgia Jackson, colored, malicious cutting, continued.

URGES REMEDY FOR INSURANCE EVILS

President Roosevelt's Message to Congress on Matter.

Must Be No Repetition of Late Scandals and Congress Can and Should Prevent.

STRONG STATEMENT OF CASE

Washington, April 18.—President Roosevelt yesterday transmitted to congress an important message relating to insurance legislation. Accompanying the message were the report and recommendations of the insurance convention which was held in Chicago last February. Among the recommendations is the draft of a bill which congress is urged to enact into law with such amendments as its wisdom may suggest.

The president urges the enactment of the proposed measure as, he declares, we are not to be pardoned if we fail to take every step in our power to prevent the possibility of the repetition of scandals as those that have occurred in connection with the insurance business as disclosed by the Armstrong committee.

The text of the president's message follows:

"To the Senate and House of Representatives: I herewith transmit the report and recommendations, with accompanying papers, of the insurance convention which met in February last at Chicago. The convention was called because of the extraordinary disclosures of wrongful insurance methods recently made by the Armstrong legislative committee of the state of New York; the suggestion that it should be called coming to me originally from Gov. John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, through Commissioner of Insurance Thomas D. O'Brien, of that state. The convention consisted of about one hundred governors, attorney generals and commissioners of insurance of the states and territories of the union.

The convention was seeking to accomplish uniformity of insurance legislation throughout the states and territories, and as a prime step toward this purpose decided to endeavor to secure the enactment by the congress of the United States of a proper insurance code for the District of Columbia, which might serve as a model for the several states.

"Before adjourning the convention appointed a committee of three attorney generals and 12 commissioners of insurance of the various states to prepare and have presented to the congress a bill which should embody the features suggested by the convention. The committee recently met in Chicago and in thorough and pains taking fashion sought to prepare a bill which should be at once protective of policyholders and fair and just to insurance companies, and which should prevent the graver evils and abuses of the business, and at the same time forestall any wild or drastic legislation which would be more harmful than beneficial. The proposed bill is discussed at length in the accompanying letter by Supt. Thomas E. Drake, of the department of insurance, in the District of Columbia.

"I very earnestly hope that the congress at the earliest opportunity will enact this bill into law, with such changes as its wisdom may dictate. I have no expert familiarity with the business, but I have entire faith in the right judgment and single-minded purpose of the insurance convention which met at Chicago, and of the committee of that convention which formulated the measure herein advocated. We are not to be pardoned if we fail to take every step in our power to prevent the possibility of the repetition of such scandals as those that have occurred in connection with the insurance business as disclosed by the Armstrong committee.

EIGHTH CITY OF THE COUNTRY

Covered Tongue of Land on Which it Was Built.

Has Near Half Million of People and Was Most Elegant and Substantial.

BUSINESS CENTER IS WRECKED

San Francisco is the eighth largest city in the United States. It is on the end of a peninsula with the ocean on one side and Frisco bay on the other. The tongue of land on which San Francisco is situated is about 26 miles long and six and a half miles wide. The city is built on hills which at the time of its settlement were almost inaccessible. The hills (Russian 360 feet, Telegraph hill 294 feet, and a number of others, ranging from 75 to 120 feet) were barren and precipitous. Between and beyond them were miles of shifting sand dunes.

Only to the eastward was there any apparent site for a good sized village. There was a cove extending to the present line of Montgomery street, into which the vessels which brought the Argonauts sailed. This has all been filled in and where the ships used to anchor is now the wholesale business section of the city.

In 1900, the population was 387,742.

Among the public buildings are the government mint, sub-treasury, merchants' and stock exchange, and many large handsome hotels.

The city hall, which cost $7,000,000, is among the ruins. The Palace Hotel which cost $3,250,000 and has a capacity of 1,200 guests. The damaged part of the city was the very business center largely.

San Francisco is surrounded by islands, and the damage has extended to all of them.

The city was founded by the Spanish on September 17th, 1776.

Fire destroyed the city in 1850, since that time there has been little loss from fire.

It is the terminus of two transcontinental railroads the Union and Southern.

San Francisco is one of the hand-somest cities in the country and will compare favorably with any in the world. The discovery of gold in '49 almost caused it to be deserted, but the necessity of some common emporium, where the miners could meet and secure the necessities of life and exchange their products, caused the establishment of some trade, and very soon thereafter came those scenes of rapidly accumulated wealth.

Men of all nationalities flocked to the city and the foundation of the present town was laid.

DEMOCRATS TO CAUCUS ON RATE-BILL

Conference to be Held This Afternoon Late.

Bailey Hopes to Find Out What His Associates Want and Be "Armed."

PASSAGE OF BILL BRIGHTER.

Washington, April 18.—The democrats of the senate will hold a conference this afternoon late on the Bailey and Long amendments to the Hepburn rate bill.

While the idea of a caucus is not entertained at present, it is probable that the democrats may subsequently be bound by caucus action should it develop at the conference that the sentiment for the two amendment in question is practically unanimous.

President Roosevelt the Bailey anti-injunction amendment and Senator Bailey has told a representative of the president that he would vote for the Long amendment if the words "fairly remunerative" were stricken out of the Hepburn bill. It is believed that the administration senators and the democrats are nearer together on the rate question than at any time since the Hepburn bill came over from the house.

Senator Bailey believes that at least thirty democrats can be relied upon to vote for his amendments, and this strength, united with the administration forces, unquestionably will be powerful enough to pass a rate bill.

It was asserted last night by a leading conservative senator that the Aldrich-Foraker-Crane forces now realize that their strength is waning, which fact accounts for the long delay in bringing the rate bill to a vote. It was also suggested that if the democrats present practically an unbroken front on the Bailey and the Long amendments the ultra conservatives will lose almost their entire strength by a stampede to the administration-democratic side.

The president is deeply interested in the democratic conference, and after Mr. Bailey makes it clear to his mind what the democrats can do in the way of helping the cause along the president will show his hand. This is believed to be the understanding.
